Q: Accessing locale in Safari web apps I have an application that outputs messages to users in different languages. The app is used in Safari on iOS and in Firefox on desktop. I want to change the locale of the app in Safari for iOS. This applies to a range of different messages, not just the ones for user interface display strings. I am able to change the current language for Safari on iOS using this question: "How to change the language of a Safari Web App in iOS 8.1". The problem is, all of the messages I have in my application are written using the navigator.language tag and that string is always "en-US" which was the user's prior locale. I can change the regional settings in the app to new locale, but that doesn't affect the app's locale. I need a way to change the locale used in the app - just temporarily. All the hints, ideas, and answers to this question look about five or six years old. Is there a way to do what I am trying to do now? A: You can't set the language in a Safari Web App. As you say, you can use the navigator.language, but this will not change the language that the user sees. The only way to set the language you use in your app is by using a system-wide language preference. I think that changing the language of the app will trigger an alert asking the user if they want to change their preferred language. You then have to restart the app (so that the language setting is retrieved) and then you can use the current language. You can't set this preference on-demand, you can't do it by user interaction, the only way is with a system-wide preference. A military judge at the Haifa court upheld a lower court's 2011 conviction of Nidal Hasan, an American-born Muslim Army psychiatrist who is currently serving a life sentence for the 2009 Fort Hood shooting that killed 13 people and injured dozens more. The lower court had ordered Hasan be executed by lethal injection in 2013. The military judge on Thursday rejected Hasan's appeal for a retrial and upheld the conviction against the American-born soldier who carried

Q: How to insert a column while using a cursor in SQL? How can I add a column while using a cursor in SQL? Here's what I have so far: SELECT LEFT(Adjudiante.Nombre, LEN(Adjudiante.Nombre) - CHARINDEX(' ', Adjudiante.Nombre)) AS Proyecto FROM Adjudiante WHERE Adjudiante.IdProyecto = 25 ORDER BY Nombre ASC A: Use a SELECT INTO statement to build a temporary table, then insert the result into that. ORDER BY Nombre ASC INSERT INTO Adjudiante SELECT * FROM #TempTable A technique for treating hepatitis B virus carrier patients with hepatocellular carcinoma. Seventy four patients, aged 20-65 years, were treated between May 1981 and May 1983 for hepatocellular carcinoma (HCC) while they were hepatitis B virus (HBV) carriers. Fifty five patients had multiple tumors. Forty seven had cirrhosis and 52 had serum HBV-DNA. The tumors were uniportal in 28, biportal in 10, and trabecular in 26. The prognosis of the group of patients with trabecular tumors was poor. Twenty two patients were treated by hepatic resection combined with local radiotherapy. The rest of the patients received intensive chemotherapy (fluorouracil, mitomycin-C). Hepatic resection combined with local radiotherapy prolonged the survival. The cumulative 5 year survival rate was 45% and 10% at 1 and 2 years, respectively. The 5 year survival rate of the chemotherapy group was 18% and 0% at 1 and 2 years, respectively. Local recurrence occurred in 44 of 74 patients (59%). The cumulative 5 year survival rate of the patients with recurrent tumors was 11%. Tumor size and/or metastasis in the lungs were the major prognostic factors in this study. This study showed that some patients
