
New! Navcoder [FULL Version] Download TOP

Our new IBUS interface is supported by: Navcoder; IBUS application for Android; Webasto diagnostic software; Many other software applications and individual projects. To get started with it, launch the application named IBUS. From the menu, select the desired program. After that, a pop-up window appears at the top of the screen with two buttons to work with. They have the following names: 1. Start work (Start Work) 2. Get information (Get Information). We will use the first option to get started with IBUS. To do this, click on the button (Start Work). The next page displays information about the current status of the program.
